

Romeo and Juliet / 2.2

Juliet O Romeo, Romeo, wherefore are you Romeo?
Deny your father and refuse your name;
Or, if you will not, be but sworn my love,
And I'll no longer be a Capulet...
5 'Tis but your name that is my enemy;...
Romeo, doff your name,
And for your name, which is no part of you,
Take all myself.

Romeo I take you at your word.
10 Call me but love, and I'll be new baptiz'd;
Henceforth I never will be Romeo.

Juliet What man are you that thus bescreen'd in night
So stumble on my counsel?

Romeo By a name
15 I know not how to tell you who I am.
My name, dear saint, is hateful to myself,
Because it is an enemy to you;
Had I it written, I would tear the word.

Juliet My ears have yet not drunk a hundred words
20 Of your tongue's uttering, yet I know the sound.
Are you not Romeo, and a Montague?

Romeo Neither, fair maid, if either thee dislike.

Juliet How came you hither, tell me, and wherefore?
The orchard walls are high and hard to climb,
25 And the place death, considering who you are,
If any of my kinsmen find you here.

Romeo With love's light wings did I o'erperch these walls,
For stony limits cannot hold love out,
And what love can do, that dares love attempt;
30 Therefore your kinsmen are no stop to me.

Juliet If they do see you, they will murder you.

Romeo Alack, there lies more peril in your eye
Than twenty of their swords! Look you but sweet,
And I am proof against their enmity.

35 Juliet I would not for the world they saw you here.

Romeo I have night's cloak to hide me from their eyes,
And but you love me, let them find me here;
My life were better ended by their hate,
Than death proroguèd, wanting of your love.

40 Juliet By whose direction found you out this place?

Romeo By love, that first did prompt me to inquire;
He lent me counsel, and I lent him eyes.
I am no pilot, yet, were you as far
As that vast shore [wash'd] with the farthest sea,
45 I should adventure for such merchandise.

Juliet You know the mask of night is on my face,
Else would a maiden blush bepaint my cheek
For that which you have heard me speak to-night.
Fain would I dwell on form, fain, fain deny
50 What I have spoke, but farewell compliment!
Do you love me? I know you will say, "Ay,"
And I will take your word; yet, if you swear,
You may prove false: at lovers' perjuries
They say Jove laughs. O gentle Romeo,
55 If you do love, pronounce it faithfully;
Or if you think I am too quickly won,
I'll frown and be perverse, and say you nay,
So you will woo, but else not for the world.
In truth, fair Montague, I am too fond,
60 And therefore you may think my behavior light,
But trust me, gentleman, I'll prove more true

65 Than those that have [more] coying to be strange.
I should have been more strange, I must confess,
But that you overheard, ere I was ware,
My true-love passion; therefore pardon me,
And not impute this yielding to light love,
Which the dark night hath so discovered.

Romeo Lady, by yonder blessed moon I vow,
That tips with silver all these fruit-tree tops --

70 Juliet O, swear not by the moon, th' inconstant moon,
That monthly changes in her [circled] orb,
Lest that your love prove likewise variable.

Romeo What shall I swear by?

75 Juliet Do not swear at all;
Or if you will, swear by your gracious self,
Which is the god of my idolatry,
And I'll believe you.

Romeo If my heart's dear love --

80 Juliet Well, do not swear. Although I joy in you,
I have no joy of this contract to-night,
It is too rash, too unadvis'd, too sudden,
Too like the lightning, which doth cease to be
Ere one can say it lightens. Sweet, good night!
This bud of love, by summer's ripening breath,
85 May prove a beauteous flow'r when next we meet.
Good night, good night! as sweet repose and rest
Come to your heart as that within my breast!

Romeo O, will you leave me so unsatisfied?

Juliet What satisfaction can you have to-night?

90 Romeo Th' exchange of your love's faithful vow for mine.

Juliet I gave you mine before you did request it;
And yet I would it were to give again.

Romeo Would you withdraw it? for what purpose, love?

95 Juliet But to be frank and give it you again,
And yet I wish but for the thing I have.
My bounty is as boundless as the sea,
My love as deep; the more I give to you,

The more I have, for both are infinite.

[Nurse calls within.]

100 I hear some noise within; dear love, adieu!
Anon, good nurse! Sweet Montague, be true.
Stay but a little, I will come again. [Exit above.]

Romeo O blessèd, blessèd night! I am afeard,
Being in night, all this is but a dream,
105 Too flattering-sweet to be substantial.

[Enter JULIET above.]

Juliet Three words, dear Romeo, and good night indeed.
If that your bent of love be honorable,
110 Your purpose marriage, send me word to-morrow,
By one that I'll procure to come to you,
Where and what time you will perform the rite,
And all my fortunes at your foot I'll lay,
And follow you my lord throughout the world.

[Nurse. Within.] Madam!

115 Juliet I come, anon. -- But if you mean not well,
I do beseech you --

[Nurse. Within.] Madam!

Juliet By and by, I come--
120 To cease your strife, and leave me to my grief.
To-morrow will I send.

Romeo So thrive my soul --

Juliet A thousand times good night! [Exit above.]

Romeo A thousand times the worse, to want your light.
Love goes toward love as schoolboys from their books,
125 But love from love, toward school with heavy looks.
[Retiring]
